THIS NOTICE DESCRIBES HOW MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR AND/OR YOUR CHILD MAY BE USED AND DISCLOSED AND HOW YOU CAN GET ACCESS TO THIS INFORMATION. PLEASE REVIEW ALL POINTS BELOW CAREFULLY.

This notice of Privacy Practices describes how we may use and disclose your protected health information (PHI) to carry out treatment, payment, or health care operations (TPO) and for other purposes that are permitted or required by law. It also describes your rights to access and control your protected health information.

“Protected Health Information” is information about you, including demographic information that may identify you and that relates to your past, present, or future physical, mental health, and/or related health care services.

Uses and Disclosures of Protected Health Information Your protected health information may be used and disclosed by your physician, therapist, our office staff and others outside of our office that are involved in your care and treatment for the purpose of providing health care services to you, to pay for your healthcare bills, to support the operations of the practice, and any other use required by law.

Treatment: We will use and disclose your protected health information to provide coordinate, or manage your health care and any related services. This includes the coordination or management of your healthcare with a third party. For example, we would disclose your protected health information, as necessary, to a home health agency that provides care to you. Your protected health information may also be provided to a physician to whom you have been referred to ensure that the physician has the necessary information to diagnose and treat you.

Payment: Your protected health information will be used, as needed, to obtain payment for your healthcare services. For example, obtaining approval/payment for treatment may require that your relevant protected health information be disclosed to health plan to obtain approval/payment for the treatment.

Healthcare Operations: We may use or disclose, as needed, your protected health information in order to support the business activities of our practice. These activities include, but are not limited to, quality assessment activities, employee review activities, training of medical students, licensing, and conducting or arranging for other business activities. For example, we may disclose your protected health information to medical school students that see patients in our office. We may also call you by name in the waiting room when your provider is ready to see you. We may use or disclose your protected health information, as necessary, to contact you regarding your appointments scheduling or changes.

We may use or disclose your protected health information in the following situations without your authorization. These situations include as required by law, public health issues, as required by law, communicable disease health oversight, abuse or neglect, Food and Drug Administration requirements, Legal Proceedings, Law Enforcement, Coroners, Funeral Directors, and Oregon Donation, Research, Criminal Activity, Military Activity and National Security, Worker’s Compensations. Under the law, we must make disclosures to you and when required by the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services to investigate or determine our compliance with the requirements of section 164.500.

Other permitted and required uses and disclosures will be made only with your consent, authorization, or opportunity to object unless required by law. You may revoke this authorization at any time, in writing, except to the extent that your physicians, provider or the providers practice has taken an action in reliance on the use or disclosure indicated in the authorization.

Your Rights: Following is a statement of your rights with respect to your protected health information.

You have the right to inspect and copy your protected health information. Under federal law, however, you may not inspect or copy the following records: psychotherapy notes, information compiled in reasonable anticipation, of or use in, civil, criminal, or administrative action or proceeding, and protected health information that is subject to law that prohibits access to protected health information.

You have the right to request a restriction of your protected health information. This means you may ask us not to use or disclose any part of your protected health information for the purposes of treatment, payment, or healthcare operations. You may also request that any part of your protected health information not be disclosed to family members or friends who may be involved in your care or for notifications purposes as described in this Notice of Privacy Practices. Your request must state the specific restriction requested and to whom you want the restriction to apply.

Your Physician/ Provider is NOT required to agree to a restriction that you may request if the physician/provider believes it is in your best interest to permit use and disclosure of your protected health information, your protected health information will not be restricted.
